Educational Costs & Expenses

TUITION AND FEES

The cost per credit hour is $268 for all ENI programs. The exact tuition for each student will vary dependent upon their respective background in the medical field and the extent to which courses can be exempted, substituted, and transferred as a result of that background.

Calculate Program Tuitions*

Licensed Practical Nurse (LPN)	60 Credit Hours
Registered Nurse (RN)	90 Credit Hours
Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN)	120 Credit Hours

Note: All programs closed to General Public; all applicants must be eligible under national accreditation standards for nontraditional nursing programs to apply.

*All awards are distributed according to specified requirements and grantor's criteria for individual scholarships, loans, or grants. As mentioned above, other factors such as work in rural or underrepresented populations, foreign language proficiency, career goals, academic achievement, program of study, diversity and financial need, and credit worthiness are considered. All funding types may be subject to additional terms and conditions as specified on the respective application. All funding types subject to repayment with or without interest upon projected date of graduation, calculated based upon program length, as well as upon early program withdrawal prior thereto. All information provided herein not guaranteed for accuracy, may change with or without notice; all potential liability associated therewith hereby released.

SCHOLARSHIPS & GRANTS

ENI offers various private scholarships from private donors and groups (local, community service and organizations) who believe in our Founding Principle to make nursing education accessible to all qualified persons wanting to embark upon a rewarding journey of service to others.

FINANCIAL AID & PAYMENT PLANS

Erudite Nursing Institute™ does not take taxpayer or other public monies (including FAFSA). Grants, loans, scholarships and employment-related tuition awards available for the purpose of aiding eligible students in financing their education. Applicants must first be admitted in order to apply for financial aid. If education funds in excess of tuition and fees are received, the student will receive a refund in the form of a check or direct deposit. Payment plans are also offered and established on an individual basis. Apply for payment plans through the Student Web Portal (SWP).

TO APPLY FOR FINANCIAL AID:

Log in to Student Web Portal (SWP) and submit application.

Financial Aid only available to those who have applied and been accepted into an ENI program. NO EXCEPTIONS.

Payment Policy

All persons who attend classes at ENI must register for their classes and pay the applicable tuition and fees within the established time frames. Students who elect to add or drop a course during the term must notify their adviser, program coordinator and the ENI registrar. Such registration changes may be subject to a fee. ENI Board of Directors reserves the right to make changes in the course and fee schedules without notice.
